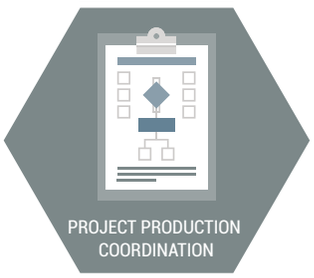
GSA CAPABILITIES STATEMENT

Forte is an analytics-driven communications company that specializes in the strategic presentation of data for government, health care, and other technical industries.

At Forte, our core expertise is making highly complex technical information accessible to a nontechnical audience.

We provide a comprehensive range of high-quality scientific and technical writing, editorial, data analysis, and Web and graphic design services. Our specialty is creating proprietary health care analysis and benchmarking solutions for pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and government organizations.

FORTE OFFERS



- Complex, multifaceted, information- and graphics-rich publications, in print and via the Web.
- Project personnel who have significant and relevant experience designing newsletters, brochures, posters, and other marketing collateral, as well as scientific and technical reports.
- Personnel who are experts in all leading illustration, design, word processing, Web design, and analytical and presentation software, including Microsoft Office and Adobe Creative Suite.
- Project production coordination personnel who follow production schedules rigorously and never fail to meet deadlines or remain on budget.
